Defendant.)

The defendant has moved to continue the pretrial motion deadline currently set for December 22, 2010. Filing No. 16. Defense counsel explains he is awaiting receipt of additional discovery from the government and, when it is received, he will need time to review the information and determine whether pretrial motions should be filed. The government does not oppose the requested continuance. Based on the showing set forth in the defendant's motion, the court finds the motion should be granted.

IT IS ORDERED:

- 1) The defendant's unopposed motion to continue, (filing no. 16), is granted and the defendant's pretrial motions and briefs shall be filed on or before December 29, 2010.
- 2) The ends of justice will be served by granting defendant's motion to continue the pretrial motion deadline, and outweigh the interests of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial, and the additional time arising as a result of the granting of the motion, the time between today's date and December 29, 2010, shall be deemed excludable time in any computation of time under the requirements of the Speedy Trial Act, for the reason that the parties require additional time to adequately prepare the case, taking into consideration due diligence of counsel, the novelty and complexity of the case, and the fact that the failure to grant additional time might result in a miscarriage of justice. 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A) & (B).
